Nixon Guards Seized

Four Marines assigned to guard the presidential retreat at Camp Davis near Thurmont, Md., have been arrested on charges of drag racing on a state highway just outside the town, state police reported.

Troopers said they arrested Daniel R. Brown, Richard L. Froshiesar, Carl Daniel and Erwin S. Hale Thursday night after receiving a citizen's complaint that two cars were racing on Rte. 550.

A State Police helicopter flying over the area spotted the race and alerted ground units, who closed in and made the arrests, authorities said.

The four Marines were charged with violation of various state traffic laws and released pending a July 17 trial, troopers added.
